PREVENTION RESEARCH CENTER

The Four PRC Divisions

Healthy Schools Division

Director, Nate Riggs

The Prevention Research Center's Healthy Schools division partners with schools, districts, and state departments of education to test and implement the evidence-based approaches to promoting student health, wellness, and academic achievement.

Healthy Aging Division

Director, Christine Fruhauf

The Prevention Research Center's Healthy Aging division applies the latest research in healthy aging to community-based applied interventions for older adults.

Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Division

Director, Debbie Fidler

The Prevention Research Center's Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities division supports people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families through transformative research and innovative programs that promote well-being throughout the lifespan.
