

Colorado Clinical and Translational
Sciences Institute (CCTSI)

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER | ANSCHUTZ MEDICAL CAMPUS

Biography

Sarah Stella, MD is an Internal Medicine hospitalist at Denver Health and associate professor of medicine at the University of Colorado School of Medicine. Dr. Stella's academic interests relate improving health outcomes at the intersection of housing and health through partnership and systems alignment. Witnessing the unmet health needs faced by her unhoused patients led her conduct community-partnered research to understand opportunities to improve care, and to a create partnerships and programs to address these needs. Dr. Stella is the Denver Health Site Director for Denver's Social Impact Partnerships to Pay for Results Act (SIPRA) Housing to Health Program, and Co-Director of Denver Health's UPLIFT Program (Utilizing Peers for Linkage, Innovation and to Foster Thriving).